President Podium

For those who may not have heard IM Osmand Palos died Saturday February 7, 2004 from lung cancer. He was 54 years old, and had been an IM for well over a dozen years. He came to Illinois late in 1996, then proceeded to be co-champion of the state for the next (97 & 98) two years. He won many tournaments in Illinois, and was frequently among the top of the ICA Tour. I am sure we will all miss his presence, and not just over-the-board. I am asking members to send in games to our games editor for possible inclusion in the issue.

Here is a nice little game by IM Palos against a 2300 Master from Missouri as from a previous ICB.

I want to remind everyone that the ICA tour is concluding at the end of March. It is coming down to the wire for some of those prizes, so play in a tour event soon. Also, don't forget to check out chessPhone or the ICA web site. Our membership list is now up on the site, so double check those expiration dates. Also, please check for your friends as well. W are currently missing a few address for sending ICBs. Thank you.

In Memory of the life of IM Osmand Palos

International Master Osmand Palos

From the Mechanics' Institute Chess Room Newsletter By IM John Donaldson

International Master Osmand Palos died Saturday, February 7, at the age of 54 in Chicago. The cause was lung cancer. Palos, who suffered from diabetes for many years, had been in poor health for some time. He leaves behind his sons Robert and Davor.

Osman Palos was born October 29, 1949, in Gracanica, Yugoslavia. He legally changed his name to Osmand after becoming a U.S. citizen in 2002.

Osmand was the strongest player in Tuzla, the second largest city in Bosnia, for many years until he left in the late 1980s. His best years as a chess player were in the mid-1980s. During this time he received the IM title in 1985 and achieved his peak FIDE rating of 2440 in 1987. His best ever result was winning the Pula Open in 1986 with a GM norm performance score of 10 from 11. Two other good results were 8.5 from 13 in a Category 4 (2328) round robin in Tuzla in 1991 and =2nd with GM Ikonnikov behind GM Klinger at the 138 player Werfen Open in 1992. Palos was a regular participant in Yugoslav Team Championships in the 1980s, winning the gold medal on board 5 in 1982 with a score of 6 from 9. Osmand played often in Germany, Austria and Switzerland in the late 1980s and early 1990s, collecting many GM scalps including those of Ikonnikov, Kudrin, Vukic, Kupreichik and Khenkin among others. Palos was a big fighter when healthy and not one to respect reputations. To get an idea of his persistence play over his 107 move draw with GM Eingorn from Graz 1987.

Palos loved to play blitz and could often be found between rounds indulging in his favorite pastime. He was an inconsistent but dangerous opponent ho could pose a danger to anyone. One example: his 2-0 score versus GM Krasenkov in the 1997 New York City Blitz Championship.

Much of his life Osman worked as a businessman, only becoming a full-time chess professional when things started to deteriorate in Yugoslavia. One of his last important duties in his old town was directing the Women's Interzonal in Tuzla in 1987. Fleeing the Balkans he spent several years playing in Western Europe before talking a position as a chess trainer in the United Arab Emirates in 1993.

Palos first arrived in Chicago in late 1996, quickly establishing himself not only as one of the top players in the city but also one of the best chess coaches. Neil Gleason of Madison, Wisconsin, remembers: "In early 1999, I spent an evening arguing politics with him. The next morning, he gave me a 10 minute lesson in the exchange Caro Kann ("play simple chess") over breakfast, whereupon I proceeded to use it with white to notch 2 convincing victories that same day in a quick tournament. He was a skillful instructor who would readily demonstrate that chess is a very simple game."

Palos was already in poor health by the time he arrived in the United States but he still managed to hold a USCF rating over 2400 until the last few years of his life, peaking at 2477. He was especially proud of his two wins over GM Goldin, one of the best players in the US. His last major event was the Lindsborg Rotary Open in December of 2002 where he scored a respectable fifty percent against a field averaging 2442 FIDE. Osman Palos will be remembered as a warm, modest and intelligent man who gave his life to chess.

In Memory of the life of David B. Mote

Unfortunately only 329 of Osmand's games are available in Mega 2004, representing probably less than 10 percent of those he played during his career. Here is a small selection covering three decades.

The Chicago Industrial Chess League Keeps Rolling

By Jim Brotsos, Co-founder of the C.I.C.L.

CICL vNY March 2 1974

THE EARLY YEARS

In the mid 1950's a few commercial chess clubs in Chicago began to hear about each other and arranged to hold large team matches and simultaneous exhibitions against Experts & Masters including (Chicago attorney) Sol Friedman, ("Champion of the Western Hemisphere") Sammy Reshevsky, and IM Al Horowitz (former U.S. Champ & founder of CHESS REVIEW).

Miroslav "Mirko" Mejzr, a Czech immigrant, headed the strong chess club at the First National Bank. He knew Salo Flohr, the great Soviet Grandmaster of the '30s, back in Prague. Now Mirko worked in the Silver Dept. of the First which was a leading bank of Chicago. The bank building stood where the Bank One plaza & the Chagall Wall are now at Dearborn & Monroe. He got the idea of forming a chess league similar to industrial bowling or softball leagues. He called around inviting other chess club leaders to come to the bank to discuss the proposition. The meeting was held on May 29, 1957. I cannot remember all of the representatives, but following is a list of most of those who attended:

The Lakeside Press Chess Club (R.R.Donnelley & Sons Co.). –

James A. Brotsos, Charles Bradley, & William P. Stevenson

Illinois Bell Telephone- unknown

Stewart Warner (a large manufacturer with two industrial sites, one on Diversey Blvd., just East of Damen [now Yuppi housing], the other at Kostner & Division St.

Hugh Williamson & Claude Luth

Chicago Title & Trust Richard Jones, John Dunworth, & Walter Fischer

Western Electric (a giant complex just south east of Cicero & Cermak)-

Ed Yaros & Joseph Traeger

First National Bank of Chicago-

Miroslav Mejzr , Don McCluskey & (probably) Bill Mann. The latter was the Manager of the Bank Cafeteria which furnished employees with free, hot lunches. We always ate well when we went to the bank for matches or meetings.

None of us were aware of the existence of the Commercial Chess League of New York, so we had no source of guidance. But we were enthusiastic, positive, and creative enough to generate some basic rules and a schedule to get us started. The competition began in the fall of 1957 with each team playing the other 5 twice, once at home and once away. The team size was 8 players, but if teams showed up with more players, the larger team result was also counted as the "Club Match" score. At the end of the season, FNB won in Team Competition, 7 1/2- 2 $\frac{1}{2}$; Western Electric won the Club Match competition, 9- 1.

In Memory of the life of David B. Mote

The only officer was the Secretary-Treasurer (M. Mejzr) who would receive, record, and relay results by phone and collect and manage League funds. He held this position for several years.

The first awards banquet was held in spring of 1958 at the Old Prague restaurant in Cicero. After the two team trophies were awarded, the group watched a couple of chess films ("Chess Fever" [1925] & "Passionate Pastime" [1958]). Then the event turned into a couple of impromptu poker games. The following year we managed to stage an after-dinner speed chess tournament. We didn't have enough chess clocks for the usual Blitz style tournament so we played Rapid-Transit Chess. I brought a buzzer clock from the Lakeside Press C.C. equipment locker. It was placed in the center of the restaurant and set to buzz every 10 seconds. Players were expected to make their respective moves between the sounds. Cash prizes went to the winner of each Class Round Robin. This was better than playing cards at a chess banquet, but it left a lot to be desired. I believe this misfire stimulated the acquisition of chess clocks within the League. In succeeding years this annual tourney was conducted with competitors getting 7-minutes per clock.

In 1963 I showed my 8 mm films of the 1962 U.S. Open Chess Tournament before the speed chess.

The banquets also included talks by chess dignitaries including Frank Skoff, (later Pres. of the U.S.C.F), Helen Warren (founder of American Postal Chess Tournaments), Pearle Mann, F.I.D.E. Arbiter; GM Dimitri Gurevich, GM John Fedorowicz, and Senior Master Albert Chow.

Sometimes special entertainments were provided for the members' wives and girl friends-magicians, pantomimists, simple craft projects, and board games.

In 1958-59 two important events took place: Nikolai Goncharoff brought the Motorola team into the League and Jim Warren joined the Western Electric team. Nik was always a strong leader for Motorola and also headed the League for 2 years. He developed large, strong teams and played more League games than anyone else. He also has the distinction of having beaten Bobby Fischer in May 1964 and, in 1959, drawing with Povilas Tautvaisas (one of the best in the Midwest) in simultaneous exhibitions.

Jim Warren was our first Expert player at a time when most teams were happy to have one Class A player on the team. In competition, he dominated for several years and always remained in the Top Ten of his Division. More importantly, he consulted with Professor Arpad Elo of Marquette U. and created our numerical rating system. He wrote a computer program for calculating self-consistent ratings. This work also formed the basis of the Elo/ FIDE international rating system.

Our ratings made it possible to create additional forms of competition and player recognition. Jim began the rating program in 1968 and served as Rating Statistician for several years. Jim introduced a popular Problem- Solving contest printed in the League Bulletin. He also served the League in many ways including heading it from 1964 to 1966. He was a great help in co-directing three Open Swiss-style tournaments held in the 1970's at the O'Hare Inn (now Ramada Inn) in Rosemont, the Western Electric Albright Gym in Cicero (razed several years ago), and the penthouse of the Leaning Tower YMCA in Niles. He also spearheaded the League sending a team of players into the Indiana State Penitentiary to play a team of prisoners.

The second year also saw the introduction of the office of League Chairman held by Hugh Williamson, an accounting executive at Stewart Warner.

CICL

In the third year the largest member of our league applied for membership. Lolita Woodard, Jasper Wolkoff, and Edgars Rudzitis brought Argonne National Laboratories into the League. This club eventually split into 4 teams. It also challenged the Rest of the League to giant team matches as special events. The only other entity that did this was AT&T which, before its historic break-up, had League teams within Illinois Bell Telephone, Western Electric, Bell Laboratories, and Teletype. Argonne and Western Electric won most of the trophies for the next 13 years.

During 1959 I inaugurated our League Bulletin.

In the 1960-61 season we formed an All Star team and entered into competition in the powerful Greater Chicago Chess League headed by the late Edward Buerger. The other teams in that league and some of their stars were:

The Latvian C.C. – Master John Tums, Valdis Tums, & Erik Karklins (The winning team)

The University of Chicago - Masters Robion Kirby & Mitchell Zweig; Mike Robinson

The Polish Eagles - K.A. Czerniecki & Roman Golla

The Ukrainian Lions - Master Miroslav Turiansky & Petro Skalczuk

The Evanston YMCA C.C. - K.O. Mott-Smith, Ed Godbold

The Austin Chess & Checker Club - Ed Buerger, John Nowak, & Martin Klein

The Knight Klub (which met in a tavern on So. Pulaski Av.)

By now the League began organizing occasional Simultaneous Exhibitions featuring such stars as Masters Rob Kirby and Charles Henin from the U. of C., frequent Illinois and Chicago Champ Povilas Tautvaisas, GM Sammy Reshevsky (again), GM Robert Byrne, GM Arthur Bisguier, GM Larry Christiansen, Senior Master Greg Defotis, and (future world champion) Bobby Fischer.

For companies with bigger chess clubs, the idea of multiple teams made sense; rules were changed to allow this popular program. On the other hand, a few teams in the League didn't have the staying power to last, so we created a rule allowing combined teams to compete. Stewart Warner and Sunbeam were the first two teams to merge. Although retired employees were always welcomed on a team, players who moved to other companies were disqualified. To help sustain the teams of such players, we instituted a "residual eligibility" rule allowing the departing players to finish the season with either the team they began the season with or a team sponsored by their new employer (but not both). Later this was expanded to allow old employees to play with their original team forever, just like a retiree. The emphasis was on a guideline adopted in our maiden meeting: Maximum Participation.

THE EXPANSION OF THE LEAGUE

Amoco

By 1969 the League had grown to 12 8-Man Teams:

Western Electric Chargers
Western Electric Gambiteers
1st National Bank
Illinois Bell Telephone
Motorola
Argonne National Labs Knights
Argonne National Labs Bishops
Argonne National Labs Pawns
Bell Laboratories
Goss Co.
Teletype

December 2003 CICL Co-Founder Jim Brotsos (author of History article) is also a chess-set collector.

In Memory of the life of David B. Mote

I was not part of the League at this time. I began exploring the idea of 4-man industrial chess teams. I contacted my old club at the Lakeside Press and found that their President, Ron Dargis, was of a like mind. Working together we rounded up 12 companies interested in fielding 4-man chess teams in the CICL. I organized a team at my workplace, Sherwin-Williams. I called the League Chairman, Nik Goncharoff, and proposed the addition of these teams as an added division of the League. Nik said "I can't turn you down, Jim, because I know you'll start a new 4-man team League of your own if I do". At the August 1969 meeting at the Hawthorne Savings & Loan Assocation office in Cicero, this "Junior" Division was accepted in the C.I.C.L. At this same meeting another large club was voted into the "Senior" Division: Bell Telephone Laboratories brought in by Gary Benson and Ray Alexis. The new 4-man teams came from:

The Lakeside Press Perma Power Chicago Title & Trust Continental Can Co.

Sears & Roebuck DeSoto
Sherwin-Williams Bell & Howell

Rauland International Minerals & Chemicals

Signode Johnson & Johnson

Within 3 years the 4-man team Division had grown to 28 teams and the League had a total of 40 teams. This was at the height of the "Fischer Boom".

The formation of a second division set the stage for an obvious annual All Star game where the best of each division would play each other in large team matches. The 8-Man Team Division usually won these battles.

In 1970 the League introduced the offices of President, Treasurer, and Division Chairmen. I was the first President. Steve Schwartz of Sears was the first 4-Man Team Division Chairman; Frank Tegel of Teletype was the first 8-Man Team Division Chairman. Ron Dargis was the Secretary, and Stan Ockers of ANL was the Treasurer. An appointed office of Problem Contest Chairman went to Newman Guttman of Bell Laboratories.

Around 1971 I installed a new program that added strength and numbers to the League. Valuable members of the League lost their eligibility whenever

- they guit their member company,
- were laid off by that company, or
- their team disbanded, often after the loss of the Team Captain or company support.

Why not create Alumni teams allowing these players to band together and continue participating? With these teams, any player who had played a match game in League competition could join an Alumni team. At that time, a major reduction-in-force at Argonne National Labs produced the first Alumni team; it was an all- Argonne team called ArgonneX and organized by Past President Ray Fabijonas. This was followed shortly by Alumni North which later changed its name to The EXcaliburs. This program has conserved many of our more talented players and leaders. The idea was adopted by our counterpart in New York. At one time we had up to 4 Alumni Teams in the League.

INDIVIDUAL AWARDS

In the early years of the League the competitive awards were all team-oriented. League officers were given plaques, gavels, etc., but these were for service. In the 1960s a couple of opportunities were created for individual competition recognition. One was competition in Chess Problem Solving as published by Jim Warren in the Bulletin. At times awards were also offered for Best-Played Game.

With the coming of ratings, it was possible to identify The Most Improved Player and the Highest Rated player in each division each year. It was an obvious step to inaugurate awards in these categories and to give the originator of our all-important rating system recognition. Accordingly, I named these the James E. Warren Awards. For some reason, later administrations have forgotten to call these the James E. Warren awards.

It also seemed fair to give recognition to those players who made most of the matches. Loyalty and enthusiasm are as important as talent. So in 1972 we instituted the Century Club recognizing any player who chalked up 100 League-sponsored games played. So far only Nik Goncharoff has exceeded 500 qualified games. Karel Dobr and Jim Warren of Western Electric/ Lucent Technology and Frank Tegel of Teletype/ Lucent Tech. have gone beyond 400 games. Those with over 300 games are the late Edward Buerger of Procon/EXcaliburs/UOP, Vern Stamm and the late Dan Kumro of Western Electric/ Lucent, and Roy Benedek and Greg Berry of Argonne National Labs.

In 1990 I wrote an obituary in our Bulletin on Ron Dargis who was a major leader in the 1969-72 period. This led to the incumbent officers creating a new individual award: The Ron Dargis award for lifetime Distinguished Service within the CICL. In 1991 I was the first recipient. Later Jim Warren and Dan Kumro also received this accolade.

TOP PLAYERS

In surveying the history of the League, one has to be impressed by the number of fine players who participated. Some gained or lost over 200 rating points in their careers; some were very consistent. I tried to identify the better players for this article by sampling rating lists in our Bulletin. Unfortunately, these rating swings, or limited play, or my missing certain Rating Lists, will probably leave some deserving players off this list. (My sincere apologies to them). The team with the strongest players in CICL history was the Chicago Board of Options Exchange which had a brief life of about a year in the 1988 season. This team included I.M. James Rizzitano rated 2585 and I.M. Calvin Blocker at 2555. Robert Gruchacz (2491) and Mark Lonoff at over 2300 were also on the team. The highest rated players with significant experience in League play have been David Levine of Argonne,

Morris Giles and Ruben Reyes of Sears,

R.Cusi of Franklin-Watts

Peter Stein, Tellabs/ Lucent Technology

Lawrence Chachere of Bell Laboratories, and

Victor Bezzubov, Fermilab

All of these stars had ratings hovering around 2350 .This past season brought a new super-Master into the CICL on the 2003 Champion Getco team: Gregory Volynskiy who finished his first season with a provisional rating of 2572.

Based on CICL Ratings, I've compiled the following list of top-rated (very high Class A to Master) players (excluding the stars mentioned above) in 45 years of our competition:

TOP LEADERS

Although strong players add prestige to the League, it is the organizational leaders that make it work. The top leaders often held office for multiple years. They also served in numerous roles beyond heading the League. Below is a list of the gentlemen who were elected to the top executive position of the CICL in (generally) chronological order.

Nik Goncharoff began the Motorola team in 1960, now has two teams which are still top teams. Nik has played over 500 games in the CICL.

Jim Warren is known in all Illinois Chess circles. For the CICL, he was the creator of the Ratings System, an officer in several positions, and still an avid member.

As mentioned above, Nik Goncharoff and Jim Warren have made major contributions to the League's success. I feel that Dan Kumro also deserves special recognition among Past Presidents. From his entry into the League in the late 1950s until his death in 1993 he served the League in special roles every year. This included Rating Chairman and Division Chairman. He became the self-appointed League Historian long ago. In his many years as Team Captain, he was always a fierce competitor and a good player. Many other League members never became President but served in major Chairmanships. The star of this group is Charlie Ward of Argonne National Labs and later Bell Laboratories. He served in several roles, but never was interested in moving up to President. When the ratings program was initiated, Jim Warren and Dan Kumro maintained ratings by using equipment at their workplace. In 1983 Charlie researched the market, found a computer the CICL could afford and that was suitable for our Ratings computations. For less than $2000 we purchased a Radio Shack TRS 80 Model III computer and an Epson MX 80 printer. Using these, Charlie maintained the Ratings program for a number of years. Charlie also took on other committee work including updating our Policies and Procedures. Charlie retired to the St. Louis, Mo. area several years ago.

In my opinion, Charlie and Nik Goncharoff are natural candidates for the Ron Dargis Award for Distinguished Service.

The word in the Navy is "the Chief Petty Officers run the Navy". In our League the Team Captains/ Club Presidents are the basic structure and lubricant of the CICL. These hard-working, dedicated leaders deserve the highest praise. Unfortunately, they are too numerous to be identified in this article.

THE LEAGUE BULLETIN

When I wrote the first League Bulletin it was a simple sheet summarizing team results and standings and CICL business announcements. The introduction of ratings and the addition of teams certainly added to the length of the Bulletin. The inclusion of chess problems, members' results in open tournaments, other chess news, and lists of top ten rated or most improved players improved the quality of the Bulletin. Some issues included instructional articles. Marvin Cox (Motorola/ Alumni) furnished the best of these. For several years he wrote a fine series called "The 2 Squares Column". A number of excellent articles were furnished by award-winning chess journalist, Helen Warren (Jim's wife). After the first few years some players' games began to be published, some with light annotations. Later, as publishing technology improved, more games and more analysis were printed. As Editor, Jim Hodina stepped up the inclusion of members' games. Members became more willing to submit game scores when prizes were offered for the better games. The quality reached new heights with the work of Editor Ruben Reyes (Sears) beginning in 1994. In the last few years Tom Friske has outdone all prior Editors. He not only created a website placing the Bulletin on the Internet, but he greatly added to annotated game coverage and total volume. Recent issues have exceeded 34 pages, some 70 to 80 pages long. The current Bulletin is better than most state bulletins.

CHESS CELEBRITIES

Many of our members have accomplished much in their professions or private lives. A few could be identified as "chess celebrities". The most notable of these would be Victor Palciauskas. When I came back to Chicago (from Navy service) in 1956, there were three boy chess players competing in the local U.S.C.F. tournaments with good results: Richard Verber, Edward Formanek, and Victor. In 1962 Palciauskas was in the CICL long enough (with ANL) to finish first in the top flight of the Speed Chess tournament at the League banquet. Years later Dr. Victor Palciauskas won the World Correspondence Chess Championship. In 1993 he was inducted into the U.S.C.F. Hall of Fame. It is interesting to note that our Past President, Tony Jasaitis, beat Victor in the 1994 North American Lithuanian Chess Championship tournament. Tony also tied for first place.

Harold Winston (VA/Alumni) was active in organizing college chess programs in the 1960s. He moved up into chess politics and was elected President of the ICA . Later he became a Policy Board member in the USCF and served as President between 1987 and 1990. Currently, he is the Chairman of the U. S. Chess Trust and Co-Chairman of the USCF Bylaws Committee.

Angelo Sandrin also played for Argonne. Although he was generally overshadowed by his bother Albert (U.S.C.F. Open Champion and Blind Chess Champion), Angelo was one of the mainstays of Chicago chess for decades. His rating hovered in the high Expert range although he did eventually reach the Master level. Several years ago he was one of the first recipients of the Natalie Broughton Life Achievement Award for long-time achievement in Chicago area chess at a high level. Angelo died on Christmas Eve, 2001.

Jim Warren has already received mention as one of the pillars of the League. In addition, he has had leadership roles in the Illinois Chess Association and the APCT. In 1997 he received the U.S.C.F. Meritorius Sevice Award for helping to establish the FIDE rating system. He and his wife have sponsored major regional tournaments and the U.S. Masters, often acting as financial patrons. They have contributed to top notch journalism (Helen edited the bulletin for the Chess Journalists of America). Some years ago the Warrens established programs for fostering chess among talented youngsters. They are, no doubt, the most influential couple in the history of Midwestern American chess. Jim has a significant collection of chessmen and one of the largest collections of chess books/ magazines in the Midwest.

Morris Giles was the power house top board at Sears. For several years he was also an active, perennially successful player in local open tournaments. Morris is probably the strongest African American chess player in Midwestern history.

Roy Benedek (ANL) has been a major player in the League and sometimes plays in open tournaments. About 30 years ago he won the Illinois Open.

Alan Losoff (Chicago Research & Trading) also accomplished a great deal in the local/regional chess world. He served as ICA President and has helped organize major tournaments here and in Las Vegas. In 1995 the USCF named Alan the Organizer of the Year.

Ervin Sedlock (Ill. Bell Tel.) has been a long time chess leader/organizer/TD in the western suburbs. He took on leadership roles in the ICA. He also has served the youth/scholastic segment with major contributions. In 1999 Erv was given the USCF's Meritorious Service Award.

Newman Guttman (Bell Tel. Labs) was the first specialist to take on the chess problem contest. Newman was a celebrity in his field. He had already composed and published more than 130 chess problems, mostly "Mate in Two" problems. Several of his compositions had won awards in problem composing tournaments. He was an International F.I.D.E. Judge and a U.S. Delegate to the Committee of Composition for F.I.D.E. He also judged 2-move problem solving in the CHESS LIFE & REVIEW contest.

Bill Brock (The Reader) has been an important part of the ICA in recent years. He has been Editor and Treasurer for the organization.

Ray Alexis (Bell Tel. Labs) created a fine magazine: CHESS 'N' STUFF (and a museum with the same name). He is an important member of Chess Collectors International and edited that organization's U.S. newsletter, THE CCI- USA NEWS, for several years. Ray has a large collection of chess material including the largest collection of chess stamps and doubloons (thrown at parade crowds at Mardi Gras) in the country.

SPECIAL EVENTS

The most significant non-awards party the League held was the Bobby Fischer Victory Celebration in 1972. We took the position that Bobby would beat Spassky for the World Chess Championship (which he did a few months later) and planned using a Forest Preserve shelter for our celebration. Irv Rosenfeld, an attorney working in the Loop, went to the County building early on the first business day of 1972 and beat out others to get a permit for use of the LaBagh Woods shelter on the Northwest Side . On Sept. 16th over 100 members and their families came for the picnic celebration. The League furnished decorations, beverages, and games. Besides many skittles games, we played tree golf and Kriegspiel.

Through the years simultaneous chess exhibitions were popular events. Those in which we played against Masters are mentioned in prior paragraphs. The biggest such events were our players (and others) vs Bobby Fischer. Besides Nik Goncharoff, another CICL player beat Bobby. In 1964 Erwin Puto of Western Electric beat Bobby in 22 moves in one of the exhibitions. Erwin was the steadiest 4th board player in the CICL in the first decade of our history. He made all the matches and won something like 8 out of 9 games he played. The final position of this game (with an imminent Mate in 2) was commemorated by being diagrammed on the League's Official Match Results form- smack in the center of it. Sadly, Erwin passed away at 52 in January, 1975.

Another type of simultaneous exhibition occurred in Oct. 1980. A group of League players took on all comers at a "Leisure Show" at the Fox Valley Shopping Mall. The exhibitors included Ruben Reyes, Jim Jackson, Jim "Pawn Down" Gibbs, Terry Andresen, Abe Ellenberg, Irwin Gaines, and Lou Parker. In Oct., 1982 another mass "simul" was conducted by Joe DeMauro, Marcus Stinson,

CICL

Bill Holm, Joe Brozovich, and Jim Bingle. David Streets once played a simultaneous exhibition against a group of inmates at the State Pen.

Still another interesting simultaneous exhibition involved the CICL. In 1960 the Chicago SUN TIMES wanted to launch George Koltanowski's chess column with a publicity stunt. They asked me (because I was Chairman of the League) to furnish 6 strong players in a hurry for George to play in a "simul". I gathered together 3 of us from the League (myself and Ed Smith from the Lakeside Press and Jim Warren) and 3 of Chicago's better players: Master Robion Kirby, Expert Harold Stanbridge, and Eva Aronson, Illinois and U.S. Women's Champion. We played at the newspaper's office; George drew with Rob and beat the rest of us in quick time. That was my introduction to the Max Lang Attack.

In 1973 George, now known as the "Dean of American Chess", (and V.P. of the USCF) paid us another visit. He gave an informal talk and answered questions. Then he performed his amazing Knight's Tour feat. "Kolty" had a fabulous memory which helped him become the World's Champion Blindfold Simultaneous Chess exhibitor. He began by marking each square on a demonstration chess board with names, phone numbers, addresses. etc. that were called out by audience members. He studied the marked-up board for a minute or less. Then, with his back turned to the board, he asked an assistant to place a knight on a random square on the board. When told what this starting square was, George recalled the information placed in that square. Then he recited the next 63 squares the knight would have to traverse to cover the entire board without landing on the same square twice. As he indicated which square the knight moved to, he also told us what notation was placed in that square.

There were a number of large All Star team matches played through the years. Most of these were the Bell Telephone System or Argonne National Labs vs the rest of the League or the 8-Man Team vs the 4-Man Team Division.

In 1974, however, we had the first of two telephone matches with the Commercial Chess League of New York. The Research Center of Amoco in Naperville had a new telephone service which allowed long distance calls at a reasonable rate. On a Saturday we converged on Amoco's cafeteria and, with the aid of a Telephone Talker (me) in a side room and Runners carrying moves between the tables of Players and the phone, we managed to conduct a 20 Board match. The match went from 1:00 to 5:30 P.M.and several games had to be adjudicated (by GM Andrew Soltis). We lost, 11 ½ to 8 ½, but it was still fun.

In recent years we have also played large matches against the Oak Park C.C., Elmhurst C.C., and Concordia Community C.C.

THE CICL TODAY

After 46 years the CICL is still going strong for a number of reasons. Despite the loss of many manufacturing operations, Chicago is still an industrious city with many companies from which to draw teams. Luckily, we have many sophisticated and high tech. firms with a good population of existing or potential chess players. When the League began, labor unions were very strong and some of the early teams came from companies trying hard to keep unions out. They practiced a paternalism that encouraged clubs, teams, and employee esprit de corps. These companies were cooperative in buying chess equipment, paying expenses, offering meeting spaces, and publicizing positive results. Some of this paternalism has vanished since unionism has declined. An advantage the League has over open chess organizations is that industry does a prescreening job that restricts the population to well-adjusted, well educated, cooperative types of adults. Also, I feel there are fewer megalomaniacs and more "team players" in the League's population. These make for good leadership material: people who are responsible, self-motivated, creative, and willing to help others.

In Memory of the life of David B. Mote

It should be noted that in the late 1970s, the League decided to abandon the 4-person and 8-person teams. Now the official team size is 6 boards.

The League rules are flexible enough that there are many opportunities for chess playing or socializing. By expecting Team Captains to rank their boards by current playing strength, team members generally play someone close to their own level. One rule that helps attain "Maximum Participation" is the inclusion of extra board players at matches. Players ranked below the first 6 boards can play rated games (if their opponent agrees). These players can be from the same team.

I recently contacted officers from our counterparts in New York to get ideas for stimulating growth in our League. It turns out we're more substantial than they are. The Commercial Chess League of N. Y. is down to 7 4 man teams. The Long Island Industrial Chess League runs between 9 and 10 teams. This year the CICL has 20 teams divided into geographical sections:

JOINING THE CHICAGO INDUSTRIAL CHESS LEAGUE

You should consider forming a team and joining the League. There is a place for the Unrated or Master player. There is room for the zealot or occasional player. There is a good chance that your company will pay the fees and expenses of your team. The requirements are as follows:

Since the current official team size is 6 players, you need to have 7+ dedicated players or 6 dedicated players and at least 2 or 3 players that are fairly interested in playing match games. All team members must be employees or retirees (not contract workers) of a given industrial, government, or school employer.

You must play all scheduled matches. From 9 to 12 matches are played after work between late September and April. Playoff matches are held in May.

At least one member should attend the annual (and any special) meeting(s) to review finances and conduct the business of the League.

CICL

At least one member at each match should be familiar enough with League rules to ensure that his team abides by the rules. Someone should be able to act as Team Captain determining details of match dates, designating the lineup, submitting results, and acting as an arbiter, if necessary. The Team Captain must be available at a phone or through E-Mail in order to schedule matches and conduct occasional League business.

Your team should be able to furnish at least three Staunton style chess sets and two chess clocks at each match.

You must be able to furnish a suitable playing space for half of the matches or be willing to play all your matches "away".

You must pay annual team dues and fees(currently $70 plus $15 for a mailed copy of the Bulletin) by the beginning of match play each year.

At least one member should attend the annual awards banquet held on a Friday night in early June. This is subsidized by the League treasury.

GM Yuri Shulman Simul

By Dr. Rajen Simul

On a cold afternoon on January 31, 50 plus chess enthusiasts warmed up to challenge young GM Shulman, originally from Belarus now residing in New York, at Barrington High School in Barrington. The affable young GM Shulman is one of the strongest grandmasters in the U.S. and is a regular at many of the top chess tournaments. Among the participants- mostly youngsters and no more than a handful of adults - were some of the brightest youngsters in Chicago area hoping to give the GM a run for their money.

Thanks to Dr. Kiran Frey, Barrington High School became the venue for this second successful GM simultaneous exhibition in nearly 8 months. The hosts provided excellent ambiance for good chess. The food on the premises – hot dogs, sandwiches, and more- ensured the players would have ample energy for playing their best chess.

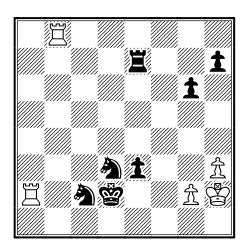

As the simul began, GM Shulman, who had white pieces, chose to deploy King's gambit in many games, probably hoping to finish off unwary opponents quickly. However, he met stiff resistance against the top youngsters who played solid theoretical chess. In particular, GM Shulman found himself in deep trouble against Eric Heiser's aggressive line in King's Indian and Shiva Maharaj's Benko gambit. Overall, GM Shulman played fair positional and tactical games and was gracious to offer the analysis of the games after the simul that lasted more than five hours. He also showed fatigue as evidenced by a drastic rook-dropping blunder that turned into a loss from a win for him. When the evening was over, GM Shulman lost four, drew two, and won the remaining games.

While I'm sure there were quite a few notable games, the following games were readily available and the GM's two losses were the best instructive games. The wins were awarded with a prize of 40 and the draws 25 dollars.

2004 Normal, IL January Open

Josito Dondon and Jon Burgess win 2004 Normal, IL January Open By Dennis Bourgerie.

Normal, IL- Josito Dondon (1590) of Bloomington, IL and Jon Burgess (2203-FIDE 2153) of England both had perfect 4-0 scores to take first place. It's quite a surprise when a Class C player takes a share of 1st place in a tournament.

For Jon Burgess, this was his 2nd victory at a Normal, IL tournament, in the last 2 months. On November 22nd, the Englishman, visiting in America, had won the 2003 Northbridge Baptist Church Open with a 4-0 score.

Chris Prather (1717), Kyle Miles (1718), Peter McConaghie (1802), Jason Chien (1413), Dan Gannon (1654) and Martin Wilber (1617) tied for 3rd place with 3 points.

Jason Chien (above) was the top scorer with 3-1 in the Under 1600 section.

Jason was the 2002 National Youth Action Champion for grades K-3, scoring 8.5 from 9 at Rockford, IL.

The top scorers for the Under 1200 section were Keith Sanders (824), Nathan Jones (736) and Karen Wilber (1091).

2004 Normal, IL January Open

The best scorer for an Unrated player was Krishna Dasari with 2 points.

I directed the 36-player tournament held at the Fairfield Inn. Colley Kitson assisted at registration and with the setup and Nathan Jones assisted at the end of the tournament.

Karen Wilber (above) won her last 2 games to tie for 1st in the Under 1200 Category.

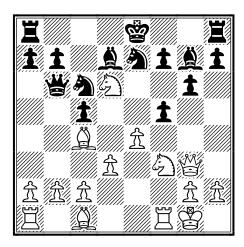

Karen is number 100 on the national rankings for girls in her age group.

This position brings to mind a story told about Anatoly Karpov the former world champion. One of Karpov's assistants proudly showed him a line where Karpov would gambit a pawn. Karpov, who was notoriously materialistic looked at the gambit and at the end of the line asked the question, "So where's the checkmate?" White is a pawn down here---where's the checkmate?

Nevertheless, there is merit in many pawn sacrifices. I cannot count all of the games that I have lost against Bill Naff of Peoria or Doug Van Buskirk of Springfield and others in various gambits like the Smith-Morra in the Sicilian, the Milner-Barry in the French, relatives of the Blackmar-Diemer Gambit, the Evans Gambit and the Englund Gambit to name a few. In amateur chess, the gambiteer can have real initiative and it can be devilishly hard for the defender to shake off the pressure with only 75 minutes for the entire game and no Kasparov or Kramnik to consult with.

White sacrifices a piece, hoping that the damaged pawn structure and cramped position around the Black king will bring victory.

The Knights' and Squires' cup round robin tournaments concluded in December 2003 did not have the usual drama associated with our normally close fought events.

Jeff Wiewel won the Knights cup 6.5-0.5, Two points ahead of Jeremiah Freidel. Jeff's usual chasers, Paul Freidel and Marcus Stinson were somewhat out of form and finished fourth and eighth, respectively.

In the Squires' cup Bo Meissen, Nathan Mc Coy, and Dennis Freidel came in First, Second, and Third, respectively, none of them losing to the other five entrants. Meissen beat both Mc Coy and Freidel to finish with a perfect 7

Chess From the Middle

Chess From the Middle

By Ron Saurez

Let's Find the Middle

I just recalled the reason why I started this column. No, it isn't some grand and profound philosophical reason. It is because I thought that we needed to see some print from the regular-guy kind of chess player. The high end of Masters and the like certainly get their venue in the big magazines and books. The beginners and lower rated players have a lot of stuff written for them. and sometimes by them. Interestingly enough, we guys in the Middle can understand and enjoy a little bit of each of these ends. The "masters" are bored to death with the beginner stuff while we Middle guys see it and sometimes even say. "Oh yeah, I should be doing that." The beginners and casual players look at the "masterly" stuff and have totally perplexed looks to them whilst they peruse the writings of these experts of our game. Yes, we Middle guys can look at these masterly works and even recognize a few things saying, "Oh yeah, I should be doing that." Yes my friends, this column is indeed for everyone including the Middle guy. You see, both the beginners and masters can look at these Middle writings and say, "What, I should be doing that? No way!"

I think it time to redefine the Middle. Of course the Middle is geographical both nationally and locally. It is also a location in the rating system of our recognized organizations, USCF and FIDE. Yes it is a location of time too, both of the human and the game. The Middle is not anything too extreme. From the Middle one can see all viewpoints as well. From the Middle a person can appreciate the Master's view all the way "down" to the purely casual player. Please understand that I don't mean "down" in a negative way. Let's face it, there are a lot of people with ability that choose not to put in the time to learn and compete at the higher levels and thereby show their potential. That certainly does not mean that they are any less of a person or a chess player.

Let's take a moment and talk real Chess. From the Middle of the board the greatest control can be exerted over the whole game. From the Middle each piece has its greatest influence over the rest of the board. The great Masters have all heralded the wonders of the Middle, so should you. The Middle is indeed a place of great importance in all aspects. Remember that!

So here, my friend, we begin and continue the venture of playing chess and living life and all its vagaries from the Middle. Join me as we proceed in chess and in life. Chess, of course, is a game. Let us not forget that. A game can serve many useful purposes. It can entertain. It can teach. It can open doors for social interaction. It can parallel laws of the universe and ultimately life. Games are cool. Games also provide humor and without humor life is drab and dull. If life is anything it should never be dull.

Now it's time for your chess lesson from the Middle. Sure, you've heard all of the old opening axioms about castling, early queen movement, quick piece placement and the like. I'm here to tell you that that stuff is all fine and well but there is much more important opening information you should know. Yes my friends, I'm talking about the much ignored, the often hidden "individualized opening system". Why do you think there are so many openings named after players? And, why is it that those players that the openings were named after are all such good and highly respected players? Well, the answer is that those players learned the highly coveted and hidden "individualized opening system". Because they learned this system, they developed their own openings and then became really good players because of this. Oh yes, many of them also became world champions too, thanks to the "individualized opening system". Because I like you all so much. I am going to share this extremely valuable system with you. Actually this is a system that needs to be followed step by step, as follows:

- 1. The first thing you must do is to get a legal pad or some other way to accurately document your own system.
- 2. Now you need to set up a chessboard and pieces with the color that you want to develop your own system for on the opposite side of you (if you want to develop a White opening system set the board up so that you are playing on the Black side.

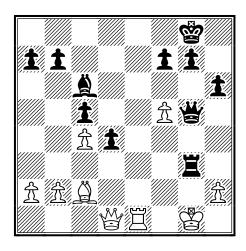

- 3. If you are writing the system for the White side then you need to make White's first move on the board, as your opponent. Write this move down. Now remember to make the move that YOU most fear seeing come at you if you were playing Black. Obviously this is the most hideous move that White can commit; so make it your own. Your opponents will probably pee their pants when they see it.
- 4. Now comes the tedious part. You need to then proceed with EVERY move that Black can make and find a refutation for it that would completely terrify you if you were to see it as Black. Then you make these White moves your opening as White. This really works.
- Proceed this way until you have completed this process 30 moves for both sides. This may indeed take some time and paper but it will definitely be worth it. You'll see.
- Now you need to do the exact same thing for the Black side. Remember, you will need to thoroughly and completely follow up on every possible move for your opponent.
- 7. With this done, you now have your "individualized opening system". Of course you will need to modify your system at least every 45 days by redoing the complete process. By doing this you too will become a great player, probably even a world champion.

Well, there you have it. Now you don't need to go buy any more books or lessons or other such nonsense on the openings. With this handy dandy system you have everything you will ever need for the openings, enjoy. Oh, by the way this lesson does indeed come under the humor category.

Remember, play chess, eat well, sleep well and have fun.

The eleventh edition of the Chicago Public Library/Rudy Lozano Branch Chicago Latino Chess Championship was held on November 8. and gathered 54 players: 25 adults and 29 children. The top ten players in each group earned trophies. Winners in the adult section were, first through tenth place respectively, Isaac Blackwell, Alejandro Gonzalez, Emilio Tallada, Fernando Montoya, Juan P. Avalos, Kevin Tyler, Julio A. Lara, Jose A. Rodriguez, Isaiah Pettye (2001 champion), and Jerry Del Real and Justino Sosa. Andy Peña took first place in the children's section. He dominated the field scoring a perfect 5-0. Four other children tied for 2nd-5th and a double-round robin, 5-minute game play-off was arranged. Cristian Peña, whose only loss in the tournament was to his older brother Andy in the final round, was the clear winner yielding only a draw in 6 games. He took second place in the tournament. Third-fifth were Adrian Abaunza. Joshua Kaehler and Jonathan Zamora. Sixth through tenth place trophies went to: Sterling Carrington V, Miguel Gonzalez, Daniel Lara, Valentin Urbina and Gabriel Gonzalez, age 7.

In the last few months, several children from our chess club have participated in a number of USCF and scholastic events such as the Nationals at Rockford in November and Rosemont in December and the Latin School of Chicago Navy Pier event of January 17. Among them are Adrian Abaunza, Juan M.Herrera, Mario Rocha, Andy and Cristian Pena, Cuitlahuac Pineda, Jose A. Rodriguez, Valentin Urbina and Jonathan Zamora, Hector R. Hernandez played in the Midwest Class Amateur Championships, A Section. He tied for third place by managing four straight wins after losing a long game in the first round. Fernando Montoya and Jose A. Rodriguez also played in this tournament. Hector is currently leading the ICA Tour, A Section. Juan M. Herrera (Kenwood Academy H.S.) is in second place in the Class G. ICA Ex-Urban Tour. A win in the last round of the Elmhurst Classic at the end of January would have given Mario Rocha (Benito Juarez H.S.) a share of first place ($100) in the under 1000 group. It was not to be.

Jose Rodriguez lead the Whitney Young High School (CPS) team to a first place finish at the Lane Tech Invitational Tournament in early February.

Hello to Chess Players!

I wanted to use this opportunity to introduce myself and the new virtual faces of the ICA and CoChess. My name is Sevan Muradian and I am the webmaster for the Illinois Chess Association and Illinois CoChess. After many years of service Kevin Bachler has turned the virtual reins over to me, which I happily accept.

As you will see we have given a virtual face-life to both organizations' websites. We have expanded upon what we were previously offering online and have also created a new logos for each organization. If you have a website that had the old logos on it and you want the new logos please email me and I will send them to you.

Some of the new features that we have added to the ICA site includes the drop down menus for easier navigation and a discussion forum so the chess community can communicate online. We have also listed current ICA members along with expiration dates. ICA and Ex-Urban Tour point standings are also available online.

Some features that are upcoming to the ICA site will include: FIDE information for those of you that have an interest in FIDE, Tournament Results, and a JavaScript engine for playback of games from both ICA tournaments, large national tournaments, and select international tournaments such as Linares, Aeroflot, and Corus.

Some features that will be added down the road (long term) to the ICA site includes a members only section that will have many features, the ability to join the ICA online, downloading the ICB in case you did not receive it, being able to search the tour standings instead of scrolling through them, and so forth. I welcome all ideas that you may have so please provide me with your valued and constructive feedback.

The CoChess website also includes drop down menus for easier navigation and a discussion forum so the chess community can communicate online. We will also have Tournament Results and a JavaScript engine for playback of games from ICA tournaments. CoChess/K-8 tournaments, large national tournaments, and select international tournaments such as Linares, Aeroflot, and Corus.

One thing that I ask you is to be patient. Properly developing, editing content, and testing takes time if it is to be done properly. Updates are done generally on every other weekend and available the following Monday morning assuming I have the content by Friday evening at 6pm CST.

Thanks much.
